

Gulf Trial

- Your Indictment will be read aloud to your group.
- Your group will have an opportunity to defend yourself (5 minutes).
- If you discredit another group during your defense, that group will have an opportunity to ask one question back.
- After the group has defended themselves, each team will have be given 1 minute to make closing statements, so as to take into consideration the ideas/information that has arisen.
- While the jury is in deliberation, you will reflect on which group(s) you think are most at fault.